12:54 PM me: hey het
I mean, "hey"
you should send me that thing 12:55 PM Andrew: ok, give me a sec 12:56 PM me: beautiful 12:58 PM Andrew: did that go through?
me: yep, thanks Andrew: ok so yeah - I need to convey what the paltform is capable of to you then we need to discuss what is possible with it 12:59 PM me: you know what would be a good way to do that?
Andrew: then we need to pick 2-3 of the best aspects and make a sales pitch with them
me: GOOGLE WAVE
Andrew: true ill make a wave me: very well then like invite me or whatever 1:03 PM Andrew: check otu the wave its even monospaced 1:04 PM me: I'm already confused let me get my bearings here 1:05 PM ah, got it 1:08 PM josh got pwned
1:09 PM Andrew: truly seen ning.com?
me: what's that about?
1:11 PM imma grab a sandwich, brb Andrew: check it out same idea except ning only lets developers customize a little bit and the info is all hosted on ning's servers so they still own the network when you want to make a "ning" site you pay them adn then send them some files 1:12 PM and they integrate them into their stuff btu you are very limited in what you can do ego works the same way except no central authority also, ning got $200 mil in VC over 3 years

1:13 PM me: wow

1:14 PM that's fucked up okay, brb sandwich
I mean church

Andrew: were this to be even marginally successful it still may nto make us rich but it wuold easily put ning out of business which I also find appealing

12 minutes

1:26 PM me: yeah
I like that aspect, too

2:21 PM me: heh heh got me another huffpo piece

Andrew: what?

me: http://www.huffingtonpost.com/barrett-brown/friedman-makes-another-ch_b_425791.html

2:26 PM oh god
just got e-mail from my dead

2:27 PM no text body just subject line

Andrew: your dead?

me: my dad, rather look up on u tube nueces helicopter pig hunt

Andrew: i think my imagination beat google to teh punch

2:28 PM me: how now?
